BRIDGE PLANS EXPLAINED HERE

JOHN L. HARRINGTON, HEAD OF FIRM TO BUILD BRIDGE AT DUMBARTON, TELLS OF GREAT EARNING CAPACITY OF SPAN.

One of the largest gatherings that has assembled at a Chamber of Commerce meeting for many months, met at the city hall Tuesday evening to hear John L. Harrington, eminent bridge engineer, tell of the plans being made for the construction of Dumbarton bridge across the lower arm of San Francisco bay.

The reading of the minutes of the last meeting of the Chamber and the usual order of business was dispensed with on this occasion to allow of a more thorough discussion of the bridge matter. Dr. F. S. Dolley presided over the meeting and introduced the speaker.

Mr. Harrington, head of the firm of Harrington, Howard & Ash, one of the country's foremost bridge engineering concerns, spoke clearly and forcefully of the great need of the bridge, saying that when the possibility of such a bridge was first brought to his attention and he inspected the location, he was astonished that such a bridge had not been constructed before. He said that in his opinion San Francisco was truly fitted by its natural location and the possibilities of its harbor for world commerce to be the great metropolis of the west coast.

Of the Dumbarton location Mr. Harrington stated that four possible ones had been considered before the present site had been decided upon.

"I consider the traffic possibilities for the Dumbarton bridge to be wonderful," said Mr. Harrington. "I have had the pleasure of building many bridges operated as toll bridges, and not one of them but has proven a financial success. We plan that the tolls to be charged for the Dumbarton bridge shall be about 30 cents per car and 5 cents per passenger, but I believe you will find that within a year or two it will be necessary to reduce that toll to keep within a toll bridge's legal earning limit."

The speaker then cited many toll bridges he had built, among them one at Portland, Ore., another at Jacksonville, Fla., a third at Kansas City, and others in different states and in Canada. Attractive booklets showing photographs of bridges built by Mr. Harrington's firm were shown, among them the great Arroyo Seco viaduct at Pasadena, Calif.

P. R. Thompson, one of the directors of the Dumbarton Bridge Association, followed Mr. Harrington, pointing out by a large map the location of the bridge and its strategic position as a connecting link between San Francisco and peninsula cities and the great Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. He was followed by Frank K. Towne, president of the bridge association; Fred Drake, realty operator of San Carlos and one of the bridge's strongest boosters; Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey of this city; Supervisor John MacBain of Menlo Park, and A. K. Haggerty, secretary of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce. All spoke enthusiastically of the bridge and its possibilities as a developing factor for the peninsula.

During the meeting it was brought out that a campaign would be started soon to sell stock in the Dumbarton Bridge Corporation, of which it was expected that 15,000 shares at $100 per share would be taken on the peninsula. All the speakers spoke confidently of the great earning possibilities of the bridge and the large returns sure to be secured by those investing in its stock. No attempt was made to sell stock at the meeting.

AUDITOR PRAISES CITY CLERK'S BOOKS

The firm of certified public accountants which recently finished the annual audit of the city's books spoke in commendation of City Clerk McSweeney's accounts. In a communication to the city trustees accompanying the written report, they stated: "We are pleased to state the books were found to be well and carefully kept during the period under review."

CHAMBER HOLDS MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Two Teams of Three Members Each Canvass the Town Renewing Chamber Memberships.

Two teams composed of members of the local Chamber of Commerce canvassed this city Monday and Tuesday of this week in the interests of that booster body, and met with very satisfactory success. Practically every business man visited renewed his membership, and where dues were delinquent paid up to date.

The exact receipts of the drive have not yet been made public, as there are still a few business places to be called. It is known to have reached well up to $400, however, and this sum will be largely swelled before the campaign is closed. The money collected will be used in financing the big signs to be built on the different highway approaches to this city and will prove an excellent advertising medium for the town.

The two teams engaged in the drive were composed of Dr. F. S. Dolley, E. C. Peck and Henry Haaker on the one hand and A. J. Eschebach, F. A. Cunningham and D. R. Phelps on the other. At the start it was agreed that the losing team should provide a dinner for the winners, and the second team proved to be on the losing end of the agreement.

SURPRISE PARTY GIVEN IN HONOR OF ALBERT BELTRAMI

Mr. and Mrs. G. Beltrami gave their son, Albert, a surprise party on his twentieth birthday Saturday evening at their home on Aspen avenue. The evening was spent in dancing and playing games. Refreshments were served at midnight, and the young folks left in the early hours of the morning after having had a very pleasant time. Besides Mr. and Mrs. Beltrami, those present were: Mr. and Mrs. P. Piscitello, Misses Theresa Pariani, Catherine Terragno, Julia and Olive Della Maggiora, Babe Carli, Florence and Dorothy Schachtel and Louise Beltrami; Messrs. Frank Esnerini, Jimmy Joseph, John Lopez, Augustine Terragno, Zilke Monize, Augustine Ventura, John Rossi, Jr., Ray Bollier, John Chiano, Adolph Bertoldi, Chales Simonini, Herbert Iago, Fred Stireman, Louis, Albert and Leonard Beltrami.

SERIES OF PARTIES PLANNED AT BEALL HOME

The Rev. and Mrs. A. P. Beall are planning a series of parties to be held at their pleasant home on Miller avenue for members and friends of St. Paul's Methodist Church. The first of these will be held tonight (Thursday), when their guests will be entertained at a Halloween party.

About sixty invitations have been issued to members of the younger set for Friday evening. Monday evening of next week a large number of church members and their friends will be entertained.

Tuesday evening a group of young people have been invited to the Beall home, and Friday evening of next week the hospitable host and hostess will conclude their parties by entertaining a group of children.

COUNTY RED CROSS TO MEET NEXT WEDNESDAY

Helen Cheesebrough, vice-chairman of the San Mateo county chapter, American Red Cross, has sent The Enterprise the following self-explanatory letter:

Editor The Enterprise: The annual meeting of the San Mateo county chapter, American Red Cross, will be held at the chapter offices, Bank building, Burlingame, Wednesday evening, October 31st, at 8 o'clock. Reports will be read covering the chapter activities for the past year and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

SPANGLER NOW ON COLLEGE PAPER STAFF

Friends of Raymond Spangler will be glad to learn that he has made the Stanford Glee Club and has also been chosen to serve on the editorial staff of the Daily Palo Alto. Both positions are obtained through competitive tryouts, and both are considered honors worth any student's best efforts to secure. Spangler was one of eight chosen from among thirty competitors for the position on the students' paper. Besides these positions Spangler is Stanford correspondent for the San Francisco Bulletin and a member of the Stanford band.

DIES IN CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL IN S. F.

Daniel Gigliani, the 16-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dante Gigliani, died in the Children's Hospital in San Francisco Tuesday. The funeral will be held from the S. Neri Funeral Home this afternoon (Thursday) with burial at the Italian Cemetery.

GIVING HIM THE OTHER BARREL

It is not often the editor of a newspaper gets a good, hearty laugh out of his business, for the editing and publishing of a newspaper is a serious proposition. The editor of The Enterprise, however, did get such a laugh last Friday night out of the circular written by you, E. E. Cunningham, printed in Daily City and circulated in South San Francisco. He laughed, not at the spirit in which the circular was "conceived" and "brought forth" (we thank you, Mr. Cunningham, for those trenchant expressions), but because of the utter foolishness and childish vindictiveness of the matter it contained. Not one of the arguments presented in The Enterprise editorial of October 4th, which the circular was issued to refute, was answered, but instead a mighty smoke screen of extraneous abuse against The Enterprise was introduced, coupled with a mass of personal invective against its editor.

From the beginning of time the demagogue has answered criticism against him and his devious ways by personal tirades against his accusers. Such practices never deceive a thoughtful audience. They are, as attorneys say, altogether "incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial." The personal abuse we will pass over lightly. It is of little moment. It has not, we assure you, stirred within us any personal animosity against you.

But, Friend Cunningham, allow us to ask, why get your circulars printed in Daily City? You know The Enterprise has a large and well-equipped printing shop, and one of the first duties of a public-spirited citizen is to patronize home industry. Why not have your circulars printed by The Enterprise? Will we print them? Why, certainly! Send the next one here, and we'll promise you a far better job than was done on this one you had printed in Daily City.

As for the editorial of October 4th being "conceived in bitterness and brought forth in hate"! Fie! fie! and two tuts, Cunningham. Read your own circular over again, dear sir, and then the editorial and see to which your expression best applies.

The best laugh of all came from the passage in your circular where you refer to "boller-plate" "bought by the yard," which you say appears in The Enterprise. Verily, those whom the gods take they first make mad! You forget that for some ten years you edited The Enterprise and all your old issues are now on file in this office. In all those copies of this staid family journal there is an average of not over four columns of "live" local matter, while the remainder of over thirty columns (excluding advertisements) is entirely made up of the very "ready-print" service you refer to in such a naughtily sarcastic manner. In The Enterprise of today the "live" local and county matter averages about fifteen columns, while the "ready-print" (again excluding advertisements) runs about seventeen or eighteen columns. And here is the keenest joke of all: while The Enterprise under the present management has used the "ready-print" for only the past six months, you used it for ten years! In other words, you used nearly twice as much in every issue and used it for twenty times as long a period! Oh, pot, pot, why shouldst thou call the kettle black?

As to the "villifying and besmirching" (your own expression, fair sir), of South San Francisco by the writer of this editorial and his opinion of this city, the very fact that he is in business here with, probably, a heavier investment in this town than you ever had, is proof enough of his opinion that this is a good city with a most promising future. But that will not deter him for one minute from striving to better conditions here. It is one of the first duties of any newspaper to offer constructive criticism for the betterment of the city where it is conducted. It is only by first realizing our faults, personal or municipal, that we can hope to rectify them.

And again, Friend Cunningham, surely your memory is failing. You forget that not so long ago you subscribed to just what The Enterprise has said about the presence here of bootleggers and gamblers who should be driven out of town. You forget the letter you wrote to this newspaper and which was published over your name in the issue of April 22, 1921. To refresh your memory and that of our readers this letter, the original of which is on file in this office, is republished below.

Here it is, just as you wrote it:

"Editor The Enterprise: Permit me to add my voice and vote to those sustaining you in your courageous campaign against lawlessness and vice prevalent in this city.

"How many gambling houses are there? Just as many as there are poolrooms, and then some. Yet gambling, which is unlawful and ruinous to the best interests of any community, goes on unrestricted and undisturbed.

"How many bootlegging shops are there? Just as many as there are soft drink places with three or maybe four exceptions, with several hotels and boarding houses to be added to the number.

"Is it strange, then, that men and boys, crazed by the deadly booze dispensed in these dens, debauched by playing and made desperate by losses in

WOMAN'S CLUB TO FIT HOSPITAL ROOM

Will Give Whist Party and Tea Next Tuesday; Funds Will Furnish Veterans' Hospital Room.

The Woman's Club of this city will be one of the first organizations of the peninsula to have the honor of furnishing a room at the Base Hospital at Palo Alto, according to an announcement made by officers of the club here. This is in line with the plan made public recently by the Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion to allow various civic and patriotic organizations to furnish or decorate the rooms at the hospital where the disabled veterans of the late war are being cared for.

The local Woman's Club is co-operating with the Over Here Club of San Francisco in this work. While the same movement is taking shape in other near-by cities, it is believed that the local club will be the first of this region to accomplish the purpose sought.

To secure funds for the work, the members of the club have decided to hold a whist party and tea, at which nominal charges will be made. Mrs. A. J. Lundberg has offered her large house at the corner of Miller and Euclid avenues for the purpose, and there the whist party and tea will be held Tuesday afternoon of next week. Everybody is invited to attend and help in the good cause, and those who come will have the assurance they are making South San Francisco one of the first of the peninsula cities "to remember."

NOT GUILTY IS PLEA OF TWO SUSPECTS

TRIAL OF HALL AND TANKO, ACCUSED OF THE MURDER OF SAN BRUNO MARSHAL, IS SET FOR NEXT WEDNESDAY.

In spite of rumors to the effect that one or both of the men now held in the county jail on charge of having murdered City Marshal Arthur Meehan of San Bruno would plead guilty and throw themselves on the mercy of the court, both men pleaded not guilty when they were taken into the superior court today just after noon. Their trial was set for next Wednesday morning by Judge George H. Buck.

It has been reported around the jail and courthouse for several days that Floyd Hall, alias Harvey, one of the two charged with Meehan's murder, had stated that he would plead guilty, and that his confederate, Joseph Tanko, alias Murphy, was ready to declare himself guilty provided he was given assurance he would receive a sentence of life imprisonment rather than hanging.

It has been said, also, that Hall would inform the court that it was he who fired the fatal shots and not his companion, the latter, according to Hall's reported story, having been driving the car.

Hall is alleged to have made a confession to Sheriff Lampkin at Los Angeles and repeated it to District Attorney Franklin Swart at San Francisco after the sheriff had brought him and Tanko here from Los Angeles. In this confession Hall is alleged to have said he had been in trouble of one kind and another since he was a small boy and that the sooner he was hanged and out of it all the better.

Sheriff Lampkin and his officers declare themselves not at all sure Hall is telling the truth in saying that Tanko had nothing to do with the shooting, and are reported to have evidence that both men were armed and both fired at Meehan as he lay on the ground after they had driven their car into his motorcycle.

Attorney James T. O'Keefe of Redwood City has been appointed to defend the men when they come up for trial.

BIG CONTRACT LET FOR HETCH HETCHY BAY CROSSING

The contract for the substructure of the great Hetch Hetchy aqueduct across the bay was let in San Francisco last week and involves the expenditure of $1,192,483. The contract was let by the Board of Public Works, the successful bidders being the Healey-Tibbitts Company of San Francisco. The huge cost involved makes this one of the largest contracts let in this vicinity for many months. It is announced that work on the big structure will begin at once.

The aqueduct will cross the bay near Redwood City and will be part of the Hetch Hetchy system, the water being conveyed through Pulgas tunnel under the San Moreno mountains into the Spring Valley lakes for storage. This tunnel, 8000 feet in length, is now nearing completion.

The peninsula portion of the great municipal water system of San Francisco is to be leased to the Spring Valley Water Company, to be used by the Spring Valley until such time as the city is ready to use it for the Hetch Hetchy water.

CITY TAXES ARE NOW COMING IN

PLANS FOR RUM RUNNING

Sir Broderick Hartwell, incumbent of an Irish title over 400 years old, has openly avowed his intention to promote a transatlantic rum-running enterprise in case the 12-mile limit is established, and, since the anchoring of a British ship outside the limit for the purpose of selling liquor to American rum-runners would be perfectly legal, his activity in promoting his projected enterprise in England by offering a guaranteed profit of 20 per cent or better is said to be embarrassing the government.

NEWS REVIEW OF CURRENT EVENTS

Germany Having a Hard Time With Monarchists, Reds and Industrial Barons.

POINCARÉ REBUFS BERLIN

Conducts Direct Negotiations in the Ruhr—Important Plans Discussed by British Imperial Conference—Doings of the American Federation of Labor.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

ANY man who would make predictions for Germany beyond tomorrow is mad," cables a Berlin correspondent. Events in that distracted country have been moving rapidly toward a climax which Chancellor Stresemann fears and frankly says may be a catastrophe unless immediate measures are taken and they prove successful. Even before this reaches the reader the situation may be entirely changed, for the better or, if possible, for the worse. Only the happenings of last week can be recorded.

The Socialists yielded to Stresemann's insistence on the "authorization law" which will permit legislation by the cabinet without reference to parliament, and the chancellor thereupon formed a new cabinet to operate as a directorate, in which are represented the Socialist, Democratic, Center and People's parties. The monarchists and Communists are excluded. On Tuesday he submitted the new government's policies to the reichstag and was given an overwhelming vote of confidence, only the Nationalists, Communists and Bavarian Volkspartei opposing. The chancellor declared he was not seeking negotiations with France alone but only with all the allies; that he had no intention of abolishing private property but intended that the great properties should take their share of the financial burdens of the state; and that Germany stood back of her signature on the Versailles treaty. Stresemann severely criticized the Cuno government's refusal to abandon the passive resistance on the advice of England three months ago when it still was possible to obtain concessions from France. He declared hard words and threats in protest against France's action in the Ruhr were useless.

Then came forward Stinnes, the Krupps, Thyssen and the other industrial magnates with an attack on the cabinet and a list of demands on Stresemann which included an eight and one-half hour day in the coal mines, ten hours in the mills and the abandonment of the coal tax. Until these measures are granted, they said, they could not bring the cost of coal down to the world market price at the pithead. Their other demands amounted to the revocation of all privileges won by labor during the last twenty years. In reply the chancellor sent Minister of the Interior Solmann into the reichstag to announce that these demands of the coal and steel magnates for measures to fill their pockets would not be considered by the government. The country was enraged by the stand of the industrial barons. The press branded them as traitors and the Communists introduced a bill demanding their trial on charges of high treason.

MEANWHILE the Stinnes group and the Otto Wolff trust were conducting negotiations with the French in the Ruhr independent of their government. When the German charge d'affaires in Paris submitted to Premier Poincaré the proposition of Chancellor Stresemann for a conference of France, Belgium and Germany in the occupied zone to arrange for the resumption of work, the premier rejected the plan, explaining that Germany had always contended that passive resistance in the Ruhr was local and that now France was negotiating direct accords with the industrial leaders there and with the local labor organizations. He said, however, he was ready to examine any proposals regarding reparations payments which Berlin might make directly to the reparations commission. The German government was deeply chagrined by this rebuff, since it had officially abandoned passive resistance.

When the authorization bill was called up in the reichstag Thursday the first and second paragraphs were voted by a large majority, but when the measure as a whole came up for a final vote the entire National party walked out, leaving the reichstag without a quorum. Adjournment was taken until Saturday. If Chancellor Stresemann should fail to secure the necessary two-thirds vote for the bill he is authorized by President Ebert to dissolve the reichstag.

These varied complications brought about a panic on the Berlin bourse that carried the mark down to the ridiculous figure of 7,000,000,000 to the dollar. The shops doubled all their prices and the people rushed about trying to get rid of their practically worthless paper money. The Communist leaders were making the most of the situation and were hopeful that the prospect of a winter of hunger and cold, together with the anger of the workers against the industrial leaders, would enable them to set up a revolutionary government. Documents seized at communist headquarters at Breslau revealed a plot to overthrow the Stresemann government and an attempt to organize a communist state by force or arms. More than fifty persons were arrested. Indeed, the Red peril in Germany was greater than at any time in the past. That Soviet Russia is well informed of the conditions and ready to help the Communists is indicated by the concentration of large bodies of soviet troops near the western border of Russia.

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE, now in Canada on his American tour, has no hesitation in expressing the opinion that wars are not done with and that the next war may wipe out our civilization. His view of European affairs is rather pessimistic, and his main hope is that the British empire, which he calls the one effective league of nations in the world today, will make itself so strong that when it says "Halt!" the other nations will hear it. "Such, in a way, is the purpose of the imperial conference being held in London. Plans were laid last week for making the empire an economic unit and for tying up trade so that none but subjects of the empire would benefit. These plans include a purchasing pool for empire food and raw material and a distribution scheme for Great Britain; ways for insuring empire preference on public contracts and for developing outlying regions with the help of British money, and plans for providing an immediate market for British manufactures and the employment of British labor.

The empire premiers are not united on many subjects and some of them have been severely criticizing some of Premier Baldwin's policies and acts.

REFUSING to be swayed from its traditional policy by the successes of the Farmer-Labor party in the Northwest, the American Federation of Labor in convention at Portland, Ore., voted decisively against resolutions calling on labor to unite with the farmers in forming a new national party. Of the 114 international unions, state federations and city councils on the roll call, all but 27 voted to endorse the report of the resolutions committee which said: "Experience has demonstrated that any attempt to mass and direct the potential and actual power of the wage earners through any form of fixed party scheme is to destroy that efficiency that comes from flexible mobility of power to meet whatever emergency may arise and from whatever source it may emanate. The policy and practice of the American Federation of Labor to be partisan to principles and not to be partisan to political parties has been fully justified by experience."

After a stormy debate the convention refused to recognize the soviet government of Russia, declaring the people of Russia must first be given a chance to vote on indorsement or repudiation of their present rulers. The holsevikis, however, had the support of some prominent delegates.

When the prohibition question was taken up there was more nearly complete unanimity. With only one dissenting vote the convention adopted an appeal to congress to change the Volstead act so as to permit the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer.

GOVERNOR WALTON of Oklahoma abandoned his attempt to head off impeachment proceedings by the legislature, and himself called that body in extra session. When it met on Thursday he sent in a message strongly urging the passage of his bill for the unmasking of the Ku Klux Klan in the state. He had previously promised that if the bill were passed he would resign, but the lower house went ahead with its plan, resolving itself into an inquisitorial body to investigate the governor's official conduct. The most serious of the charges against him are that he has exceeded his parole and pardon authority, misused public moneys and usurped constitutional rights by denying the right of recourse to habeas corpus under his decree of martial law. The inquiry is likely to last a long time, and then the senate will sit as a trial body if the house votes an impeachment.

ANOTHER governor who is having a mighty hard time is McCray of Indiana. His financial embarrassments have been before the public for weeks and it is charged there were irregularities in the signing of notes which he negotiated. He has not, at this writing, been indicted, but bankruptcy proceedings have been instituted and civil suits against him started. A grand jury is conducting an investigation and Mr. McCray says he is willing to tell it all the facts. In general he denies any wrongdoing and blames "political blackmail" for his troubles.

IT is authoritatively announced at the White House that President Coolidge believes industry throughout the United States is generally prosperous, that business conditions are promising and that the outlook is highly satisfactory. He has received reports of the satisfactory condition of many agricultural products, especially corn, of good markets for cattle and of fair prices for hogs. The fruit situation has been handicapped by a car shortage, but the Department of Agriculture is co-operating with the railroads, growers' organizations and others to relieve the strain. The textile and steel industries are doing fairly well; some mining industries are not so prosperous; the Oklahoma oil region is having difficulties owing to the large oil production farther west.

"IRRECONCILABLES" of the senate were much pleased by intimations, which were almost official assurances, that President Coolidge has no intention of taking a hand in the foreign situation by urging the Hughes plan, which calls for an unbiased commission to determine Germany's ability to pay the reparations. Mr. Lloyd George has endorsed this plan and it is favored by most of the European nations though France will have none of it. It was said also that Mr. Coolidge sees no advantage to be gained in the calling of an economic conference of the world powers until there is a change in conditions in Europe.

TEIXEIRA GOMEZ, the new president of Portugal, finds that he, like most of his predecessors, is sitting on an earthquake. Already there have been two revolutionary outbreaks against his administration, and another is expected any day. His enemies predict that he will soon be either assassinated or driven out of the country.

HENRY FORD says his offer for the purchase of Muscle Shoals is still before congress and will not be withdrawn. He blames Secretary of War Weeks and political influences for the fact that his bid was not accepted and for the sale of the part of the plant known as the Gorgas steam plant, which was included in Mr. Ford's offer.

GIVING HIM THE OTHER BARREL

these gambling joints, should take to the game of robbery and burglary so common of late in South San Francisco?

"It is time to call a halt and to clean house. Otherwise decent people will refuse to make their homes here.

"The soft drink ordinance was enacted solely for the purpose of bringing the drink business under local jurisdiction and control. If local police officers can not get proof and enforce the law, the city fathers should find officers who can.

E. E. CUNNINGHAM."

Oh, consistency, thy jewelry is sadly awry! Surely, Cunningham, you forgot that letter when you wrote last week's circular, now didn't you? Surely you forgot it when you declared that the editor of The Enterprise, in saying similar things, was defaming the town. But, dear sir, why this flip-flop and change of front on your part? Why, when the city trustees endeavored to act along the lines you suggested and get "officers who can get proof" you about-face and bring suit to force them to reimburse the city for the money paid out in that endeavor? 'Tis strange, 'tis passing strange, and, to again use one of those trenchant expressions which flow so easily from your facile pen, "surely it is something to ponder over!"

Now in its editorial of November 4th The Enterprise tried to make clear that Cunningham personally was not the issue, nor was the personality of the editor of this newspaper anything to do with the matter. The main point at issue, Cunningham, is your silly suit against the city trustees to make them refund to the city the money paid to a detective agency for securing evidence against law-breakers in this city. Whether the law will force them to do this is, as you say, up to the court or courts alone. But in passing this newspaper will say that all fair-minded citizens should bear this in mind: The Wright Act does not give city officials or police officers any choice in the matter of enforcing the prohibition law. When they took the oath of their individual offices they swore to uphold the Constitution of the United States and to enforce its laws. The Wright Act, duly approved by the voters at the last state election, makes it compulsory upon all officers to enforce the prohibition amendment to the Constitution. Thus it will be seen that the city trustees were merely doing their sworn duty in taking what steps were necessary to get evidence toward the enforcing of the law. And if the law will say to public officials: "You must do this," then turn around and punish them for doing it to the best of their ability, then surely there is something the matter with the law.

Now, to take another subject touched upon in your circular, Cunningham, that of your being ousted from office as city recorder because of your leniency with law-breakers. You question the right of the city trustees to interfere with you in your imposing of ridiculously small fines on convicted bootleggers. Again you seem to forget something. Yours was merely an appointive office, you held your job only at the pleasure of those appointing you, and when you did not fulfill your duty as they saw it they had every right to relieve you of that office as they have the same right over your successor. The three fines you imposed for violation of the prohibition law were not, as you state, $50 in each case, but $50 in one case and $25 each in the two others. And if you read the newspapers you will learn that such fines are far below those imposed in other cities. Practically every issue of every newspaper carries news items to the effect that violators of that same law are being fined from $250 to $500 in other cities of California. Similar cases have been of frequent occurrence of late in this very county. The present city recorder has imposed fines in such cases neither heavier nor lighter than those of other courts, but averaging just about the same.

To again refer to that humorous circular of yours: you practically defy the editor of The Enterprise to publish the sum that has been collected in fines here as a result of your successor's tenure in office and largely the result of evidence collected by the detectives hired by the trustees. Why, dear sir, we will do so with pleasure, and we hope it will prove duly instructive. For your information and that of our readers we will say the records at the city hall show that sum so collected to be in excess of $4000, $4180 to be exact. Does that look "sick and moribund," to use your own expression, beside the $2748.35 paid the detective agency for its services? Notice we say paid that agency, for in spite of your childish insinuations, Cunningham, the amount which the records show was paid that agency was paid to it in full. Nobody else except its operatives got a red penny of it. And of that $4180, Cunningham, you collected $100, your successor $4080.

You refer pointedly to the coming city election, Friend Cunningham, and state the editor of this newspaper is working to keep on the city board officials friendly to himself and The Enterprise, but indeed, kind and loquacious sir, you are mistaken or rather your statement is entirely false. Whether trustees friendly to The Enterprise are elected is not at all the point at issue, but whether such men chosen will work for the best interests of this city of ours. And allow The Enterprise to state that should the gamblers, booze-peddlers and other parasites and law-breakers, make the attempt it is rumored on the streets they intend to make, that is, to place on the board three men of their own kind and friendly to their nefarious activities, they are going to have the merriest light of their young lives. We need no further proof of that than the multitude of commendations The Enterprise has received on that editorial of October 4th and the many phone calls we have received pledging assistance and support from residents of the town we know are devoted to its best interests. And allow us to state for your information that these commendations and proffers of support have come from every part of town and from every nationality represented by our citizenry. Those words of commendation in the work he is trying to do and those offers of assistance in that work are appreciated by the editor of this newspaper more than he can find words to express, and they show him more than anything else could that the decent, law-abiding citizens of South San Francisco are aroused to the need for concerted action as they never have been before.

ANOTHER OFFICER NEEDED

It would seem from the number of house-breakings and petty robberies that have occurred in town within a few weeks that this city needs another officer to assist the two now on duty at night. Such an extra officer might save the city from many robberies and its citizens from much loss of property. The two night officers we have are doubtless doing all they can to watch the city and its homes at night, but two men can not cover a large territory efficiently. The assistance of a third would make considerable difference in the thoroughness with which the night patrol of the streets can be carried on, and The Enterprise respectfully urges that the city trustees give consideration to the hiring of such addition to the present police force.

G. B. L. S. MEETING

A regular meeting of the Girls' Block Letter Society was held Wednesday, October 17th. A motion was made to hold regular dances in the evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. A sewing bee was also decided upon, each member making a dish towel for the society. As there was no further business, the meeting adjourned at 1:05 o'clock.

SUFFERED MANY YEARS WITH FEMALE TROUBLE

PE-RU-NA
LIKE A GIFT FROM HEAVEN

Mrs. Katie Scheffel,
R. F. D. No. 5, Lowell, Ohio

"I have been suffering for years with female trouble. Was operated on five years ago. It relieved me some but I did not regain my strength. Two years later was taken sick and bedfast several months. I treated a long while without much relief. I was discouraged, my mind affected, so nervous I could neither eat or sleep and unable to do anything.

We tried several doctors but one after another gave up my case as hopeless. Finally a good friend advised me to try Pe-ru-na. I did. It relieved me almost immediately. Your medical department said I was suffering from chronic catarrh of the system. I began taking your medicine in March, 1914, and continued until August. I took ten bottles of Pe-ru-na and three bottles of Man-a-lin and felt like a new person. Your medicine seemed like a gift from Heaven. It was like coming from darkness into light.

We have used your medicine since for coughs, colds and grip with good results. We will always keep it on hand. I weigh twenty-five pounds more than I ever did, eat and sleep well and can do a good day's work. Everybody says I look fine. Even the doctors are surprised. I cannot thank you enough and will always recommend Pe-ru-na to sufferers from catarrh."

MRS. KATIE SCHEFFEL,
R. F. D. No. 5, Lowell, O.

Mrs. Scheffel is only one of many thousand women in the world, who owe their present health to Pe-ru-na. The record of this medicine is a proud one as Pe-ru-na has held the confidence of both sexes for fifty years or more.

If your trouble is due to a catarrhal inflammation in any organ or part of the body, do like Mrs. Scheffel. Try Pe-ru-na. Insist upon having the original and reliable remedy for catarrhal conditions. You won't be sorry.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC power, developed, is more abundant and cheaper in California than in any other state. That fortunate condition has been brought about chiefly by public utility companies under California's effective system of regulation. Miss Elsie Chaine of Wallace, Idaho is so enamored with the climatic conditions of the peninsula that she has decided to make her home henceforth with the family of her uncle, N. Curtis of Huntington Park.

San Bruno residents were shocked last week to learn of the violent death of Phil Parrell at San Pedro on Monday. He was hatch tender for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company there, having but recently removed with his family from Fourth Addition, and was down in the hold of a ship at the time of the accident. A chain broke and he was struck and killed almost instantly. The body was shipped north, burial taking place at Holy Cross Cemetery Saturday. Mrs. Parrell, the widow, and her young son, Willie, have the sympathy of the entire community.

The Neighbors of Woodcraft appreciate the fact that quite a number of South San Francisco people attended their whist party at N. D. Hall last Saturday evening, giving due credit to The Enterprise for publishing the announcement of the party.

All Colma grieved over the death of Miss Alvera Morchio, daughter of the late John and Louise Morchio, who passed away last Tuesday. She resided here for many years, graduated from Jefferson grammar school and left a large circle of friends and old schoolmates to mourn her loss. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Molinari and Mrs. John Maloof. The funeral was held from the chapel of H. F. Suhr & Co.; thence to Holy Angels' Church, Colma, where a requiem high mass was celebrated for the repose of her soul. Interment was held at the Italian Cemetery and was attended by many Colma people.

REDWOOD 36, SOUTH CITY 7

And let me say, fellow Greeks, that the heat was fierce, and the game was just as fiercely fought as the weather was hot. But there was no stopping the Redwood backfield. Those fellows did their best, and that was too much for us. The Redwood fullback was the most outstanding player. For South City, the entire backfield played brilliantly. Our only touchdown came in the first quarter. Dotson started the rush with a thirty-yard run off tackle on the old crisscross. Then Sullivan scored the touchdown, taking center for thirty yards more. Aylsworth kicked the goal. During the second quarter Aylsworth was knocked unconscious when he made a brilliant tackle that just staved off a touchdown. He was unable to return to the game, and Dotson was shifted to fullback.

The game was more closely contested than the score indicates and Redwood made most of her points on forward passes that should have been blocked.

A SOUTH CITY BOY MILLIONAIRE

Pastor Beall says he has discovered a boy millionaire in this city. In a six-minute sermon he will tell about him next Sunday morning just before his regular sermon. Boys and girls are invited to this service.

"How I Cleared the Mill of Rats," by J. Tucker, R. I.

"As night watchman I believe I have seen more rats than any man. Dogs wouldn't dare go near them. Got $1.25 pkg. of RAT-SNAP, inside of 6 weeks cleared them all out. Killed them by the score every night. Guess the rest were scared away. I'll never be without RAT-SNAP." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Carmody's and Peninsula Drug Store.

LOOKING THROUGH A WET WINDSHIELD

That's the way most motorists unconsciously see the road and the pedestrians. Fact! And easily understandable when one stops to realize that seven men in ten have defective eyes. Most of them don't know it. There would be fewer accidents, greater driving efficiency and more mental ease if motorists would obey that impulse and have their eyes examined to make sure of their exact condition and stop "guessing about it." In California investigation showed that 50% of all motor accidents were due to defects of vision. Save your sight. H. C. Koop, optometrist and optician, at Peninsula Drug Store, South San Francisco.

Forestalled Hostess.

The hostess of a children's dance was saying good-by to her guests. A dainty little girl of six, after mentally noting the lady's formula of leave-taking, and anxious to say the correct thing, ingeniously forestalled her hostess with: "Good-night, Mrs. —, I hope I have enjoyed myself."

St. Peter's Built in 176 Years.
From the time the foundation of St. Peter's in Rome was laid in 1450, under Pope Nicholas V, to the dedication of the completed church by Urban VIII, November 18, 1626, 176 years were spent in building the magnificent basilica, says the Detroit News. During that period 28 popes reigned. The cost of the basilica proper, exclusive of bell towers, statues, mosaics, etc., has been estimated at nearly $47,000,000. The sacrists added by Pius VI raised the cost almost $1,000,000. One of the strangest facts relating to St. Peter's is that with one or two exceptions all its pictures are mosaics. So perfect are they that they seem to be oil paintings. Yet there are only one or two oil paintings in the whole basilica.

The East.

And then I saw the men of the East—they were looking at me. The whole length of the jetty was full of people. I saw brown, bronze, yellow faces, the black eyes, the glitter, the color of an Eastern crowd. And all these beings stared without a murmur, without a sigh, without a movement. . . . Nothing moved. The fronds of palms stood still against the sky. Not a branch stirred along the shore, and the brown roofs of hidden houses peeped through the green foliage, through the big leaves that hung shining and still like leaves forged of heavy metal. This was the East of the ancient navigators, so old, so mysterious, resplendent and somber, living and unchanged.—Joseph Conrad, in Youth.

Of Course.

"Are they happily married?"
"Dear me, yes. They've been married only a month."

MERCHANT GIVES MORE EVIDENCE

W. F. Penny, prominent merchant of Hendersonville, N. C., and a leader in the civic and business affairs of his section, gives unstinted praise to Tanlac, which, he states, has restored his health and overcome troubles that had defied treatment for years:

"For many years," stated Mr. Penny, "I was a great sufferer from indigestion and stomach trouble. Ulceration set in and necessitated an operation. Utter lack of digestive power over a long period so weakened me that I was hardly able to attend to my business."

"Tanlac seemed to reach the seat of my troubles at once and now I have normal strength and activity in every way. Tanlac is undoubtedly the best stomach medicine to be had."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.—Advertisement.

Lightning's Pranks.

Lightning plays pranks which are not so easily explained. Some years ago a Russian steamer crossing the Black sea was struck by lightning three separate times within seven minutes. Though set on fire, her crew managed to put out the flames and get her back to port. A wheat ship on Lake Huron was struck twice within three minutes, each time in the same spot. The second flash set her on fire and she sank.

Thunder Brings Out Worms.

"It is the thunder that causes so many worms to be seen on the ground after a rain," says J. W. Gannon of Montgomery, Ala., in the Detroit News. He explains: "They leave the ground on account of the vibration caused by the thunder. They are never seen except after an unusually hard thunderstorm. The thunder does it; not the rain."

"Down here, where we would rather fish than eat, if you ask a native about getting his bait he will tell you that he is going to 'fiddle 'em out,' or 'saw 'em out.' He drives a stout piece of plank down in the ground a foot and a half or two feet deep and then takes a heavy piece of plank and draws it across the top of the piece driven in the ground for a few minutes, causing a vibration of the ground, and all the worms within a radius of several feet will come out in a hurry."

Industrial Disputes.

The first provision for the settlement of industrial disputes seems to have been the tribunal established before the French Revolution at Lyons, France, for the settlement of controversies in the silk industry. Though this tribunal was abolished in 1791, it had proved so effective that Napoleon, in 1806, created councils of experts having similar functions.

I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery according to directions, and I found it the best medicine I ever took for this condition of the blood. It so purified my blood and put it in such a healthy state that the breaking out left me and I have not had any return of this condition since. ### Brave Queen Bees.

Nearly a thousand vessels pass Tilbury, England, every day, where a Sailors' Rest has just been opened by the British and Foreign Sailors' society. The Thames is very deep here, and the docks offer special facilities to craft of every kind, from the largest Australian liners to the humblest cargo boat. It was here that Queen Elizabeth reviewed her troops in 1588, when the Armada invasion was threatened, using the memorable words, "I know I have the body of a weak, feeble woman, but I have the heart and stomach of a king, and of a king of England, too!"

Washable Paper.

Many possible uses suggest themselves for a special paper recently produced and patented by a Japanese inventor. The paper is said to be reasonably strong and can be crumpled up and washed with soap and water. So durable is this paper that it can be used as a covering for umbrellas and, when soiled, can be easily cleansed at home. As a wrapping paper, it could be used over and over, being washed when soiled. It is said that the product can be made at a reasonable price. It has a texture somewhat like cloth, and is not to be confused with oiled paper.

Since Gowns Are Longer.

"Has the flapper disappeared?"
"Not entirely," replied Miss Cayenne, "but her ankles are not so conspicuous."

Speaking of women, attractive simpatons are more popular with men than intellectual botes.

OWNERSHIP OF DEERHOUND BEING SETTLED IN COURT

One deerhound of various colors and spots and with the scar from a boil on one hind leg is the cause of a lawsuit being heard before Judge Edward Farrell this afternoon. Pete Cerquetini claims the dog belongs to him and was stolen by one Joe Fontas of Halfmoon Bay. Fontas claims the dog is his, that he raised it, sheltered it and cared for it like a father or brother or dog fancier. Two eminent attorneys, J. E. Bullock of Redwood City and J. E. McCurdy of San Mateo are handling the case, Bullock for Cerquetini and McCurdy for Fontas. As The Enterprise goes to press smoke is seen hanging around the courtroom, but as yet the decision is in doubt.

Ruth Chapter, O. E. S., gave an Associate Matrons' Night last Monday evening at Fraternal Hall in honor of Mrs. W. Waelty, now associate matron of Ruth Chapter. Mrs. Waelty was the hostess of the evening. All San Francisco associate matrons and associate matrons of all the peninsula towns were invited with their trailers, there being thirty of these present. There was procession of advancing officers during the evening. Mrs. Waelty took the chair of matron for the evening. Following the initiation a large banquet was served in the ballroom. Decorations were of Hallows'even motive. About one hundred and fifty members and guests were present.

A LETTER FROM CHARLES ROSSI

The Enterprise publishes below a letter received this week from Charles Rossi, a subscriber and a local citizen for whom this newspaper has every respect. The Enterprise is always glad to receive and to publish such letters on any question of public interest. We do not wholly agree with the opinions expressed by Mr. Rossi, but are nevertheless pleased to publish his letter, for it is well written and shows its writer has spent intelligent thought on the subject in hand. The Enterprise, like any broad-minded newspaper, is glad to serve as a medium of public expression on any matter of public interest, whether it agrees with the writer or not.

Here is Mr. Rossi's letter:

Editor The Enterprise: Please allow me some space to express my view in regard to conditions in South San Francisco, as mentioned in your issue of two weeks ago. First, I will say that I'm not a bootlegger nor am I one of their customers, but it is queer that so much pains are taken about stopping that traffic besides spending a good deal of money, while not much trouble, it seems, is taken to rid the town from that gang of marauders who for months have been robbing or making attempts at robbery regularly every week. So far no one has ever been brought to justice, and surely these prowlers are much worse than those selling booze, as the latter take money only from those willing to spend it, while victims of robbers must pay with their belongings, willing or not. After all, drinking was perfectly legal from the time of Noah to as late as three years ago, and reading the papers we find quite often bootleggers in every class of people, from ministers of the gospel to public officials, prohibition enforcement officers not excluded. If some fanatic would try to prohibit smoking or pass other blue laws, there would be so many more new criminals. As for people leaving this city for Burlingame or San Mateo, if they do so they do it on account of there being better climatic conditions. Though South San Francisco is an ideal place for workers on account of its cool climate, it is far from agreeable to very rich people not connected with business here to make their home, while the two cities mentioned are the residences of many millionaires right now. As for those who are leaving us because of booze being sold here, there is nothing better to wish them than bon voyage and good luck.

TWO INCOMES

WHEN John D. Rockefeller was a struggling young bookkeeper in Cleveland he laid the foundation for his now great fortune by putting into operation a very old but positive law of success.

He wasn't satisfied with $9 per week salary. He naturally wanted more—but he had only one pair of hands—and one head. So he saved AND PUT MONEY TO WORK for him—his savings. Then he had TWO incomes instead of one.

Two incomes are better than one. Your wage, salary or crop profit may be fine—but when money comes to you in the form of interest—as well as the other—then you are on the road to a comfortable old age.

TODAY is never too late to start a saving account. It will pay you 4%—here.
